

Zwift Bulletin No 6

This is a short bulletin, mainly because I am running out of things to talk about.....

Jersey Unlock Codes

There are various promotional jerseys that can be unlocked. When unlocked they will appear in your (kit) garage. Here is a list of the jerseys and, if available, their unlocking codes.

There is a 'BUT' - you need a Mac or PC to access the promo code box, by hitting the P key whilst In Game. You're out of luck if you run the game on an iPad, Apple TV or smartphone.

However, there appears to be a workaround. Open a browser page and go to <https://www.zwift.com> and log in. Click on your avatar and go to: -

My Profile/Membership/Promotions.

There you will find the Promo Box. I tried several codes but the only one that worked for me was GOGCN, as shown by the above image. You may have better luck.

Pace Partners

I have previously mentioned that I have found it difficult to keep with the Pace Partners, which for my ability level means Dan Diesel.

Dan goes really slowly up the hills and then is a demon on the descents. Zwift chat confirms that Dan Diesel is the most difficult of the four Pace Partners to stick with. Why does this matter? The longer you can stay within 10 metres of him, the quicker you accumulate Drops (the virtual currency to spend in the Drop Shop on frames and wheels).

I have found a way that makes it MUCH easier to stay with Dan.

The default view when you join the game is "Overhead and Behind". You can change the view by using the Companion App (as shown by the arrow in the image opposite) or bringing up the menu bar on the device running the game. Changing to the Handlebar/1st person view (as the image below) makes it much easier to keep with Dan.
